

STUDIO
Villanueva
ARCHITECTURE, LLC

RENOVATION of 6,000 SQ FT HISTORIC GOLD COAST MANSION ■ ■ ■

The client wanted to de-convert this 12,000 sq foot mansion from 2 units to a single family home. The bottom unit was done with traditional materials and the objective was to bring this same style into the top floors. The main focal point is the ornate wood staircase.

NOTE: These photos are during construction and are low quality.

These are photos of the original portion of the home.

STUDIO
Villanueva
ARCHITECTURE, LLC

RENOVATION of 6,000 SQ FT HISTORIC GOLD COAST MANSION ■ ■ ■

The client wanted to de-convert this mansion from 2 units to a single family home. The bottom unit was done with traditional materials and the objective was to bring this same style into the top floors. The main focal point is the ornate wood staircase.

NOTE: These photos are during construction and are low quality.

Renovated areas of the house, You can see how we extended the use of wood throughout the house.

STUDIO
Villanueva
ARCHITECTURE, LLC

RENOVATION of 6,000 SQ FT HISTORIC GOLD COAST MANSION ■ ■ ■

The client wanted to de-convert this mansion from 2 units to a single family home. The bottom unit was done with traditional materials and the objective was to bring this same style into the top floors. The main focal point is the ornate wood staircase.

NOTE: These photos are during construction and are low quality.

Some of the renovated bathrooms

STUDIO
Villanueva
ARCHITECTURE, LLC

RENOVATION of 6,000 SQ FT HISTORIC GOLD COAST MANSION ■ ■ ■

The client wanted to de-convert this mansion from 2 units to a single family home. The bottom unit was done with traditional materials and the objective was to bring this same style into the top floors. The main focal point is the ornate wood staircase.

NOTE: These photos are during construction and are low quality.

Some of the renovated living spaces

